Structured guidance for meaningful careers

A 3-hours workshop for (former) academics, who want to:

- Develop a clear strategy for their transition with prioritized actions and realistic timelines
- Understand what activities actually lead to opportunities vs. what's just busy work
- Make steady progress while managing current commitments without burning out

PROBLEM WE SOLVE

Many academics moving to industry don't have a clear strategy for their transition. Without knowing what to prioritize or what actually leads to opportunities, they waste time on activities that don't move the needle or feel paralyzed by the scope of what needs to happen.

This workshop gives you a practical transition strategy framework—what to do in what order, what actually matters, and how to allocate your time effectively so you can make real progress without burning out.

WHAT YOU GET

- A framework for sequencing your transition activities and setting realistic timelines
- Practice identifying high-impact vs. low-impact activities
- Clear priorities and action plan you can implement immediately
- Strategies for making progress while managing existing commitments

PRACTICAL INFO

- 3 x 50-minute sessions with Q&A after each block
- Hands-on exercises and frameworks included
- Limited to 12 participants for focused interaction
- Interactive online session

WHO IS IT FOR

- PhD or equivalent research background
- Leaving academia or early in industry (0–2 years)
- Lacking a clear long-term non-academic direction
- Targeting business or industry roles
- Seeking strategic clarity, not just application tactics

Not a fit if you're only looking for generic resume tips or want to stay in academia.
